LEXINGTON COMMUNITY RADIO IS THE VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

Lexington Community Radio is created by 160+ of your friends and neighbors producing thousands of hours of original, hyper-local content each year in English and in Spanish on WLXU 93.9 FM and El Pulso WLXL 95.7 FM.

We are a go-to information resource for Lexington's urban neighborhoods--especially communities of color, Latinx communities, and LGBT communities whose experiences and concerns are not represented in other media.

Lexington Community Radio also plays a critical public safety role by providing real-time, community-level information during severe weather, disasters, and other local emergencies.

We broadcast live in the neighborhood. Plus you can listen anywhere in the world with our phone apps or by streaming lexingtoncommunityradio.org.

LEXINGTON COMMUNITY RADIO IS NEIGHBORHOOD PUBLIC RADIO.

Our Mission is to:

Serve our listeners by providing local, timely, relevant content and critical public safety information.

Amplify underrepresented voices and promote equality by engaging and supporting diverse views.

Enliven our community by creating connections and conversations around life in Lexington.

Lexington Community Radio is a 501c3 non-profit. Contributions made to the station are tax-deductible as allowed by law. For specific questions, please consult with your tax preparer.

“Lexington Community Radio is a God-send! To be able to regularly access public information and programming that is un-filtered, unfettered...is a breath of fresh media air. Your work is THE critical element to maintaining free & open communication in a time when this basic democratic principle is at serious risk. Keep on keeping on!”

-Don Offutt, Listener & Fan of “Take The J Train”

LEXINGTON COMMUNITY RADIO

"Local radio is the best with real neighbors on the air. Lexington is lucky to have leaders investing in Community Radio. It's live and full of local life!"

-Scott Wegenast

"I have been a radio personality at LCR since the first day of broadcasting on WLXL. I started recording my show from home, and now I'm live on Wednesday from 11am to 1pm, and Sunday 5pm to 7pm. My show fills a void my listeners have been waiting for in Lexington—old school R&B/Hip-Hop from the 70s,80s and 90s. I like to think of my listeners as 30-plus, grown and sexy."

- DJ Walt Cee

The Time Capsule

"I continue to be amazed by the excellent customer service from the LCR team. It's always a pleasure bringing our staff to the studio and they recognize the benefits of our partnership, which was recently extended by the Board of Health."

- Kevin Hall, Fayette County Health Department

“When I can, I try to shop local and with LCR sponsors. I assume we’re all like-minded. It keeps the circle going. It’s gratitude for being a sponsor.”

“Sponsorship shows the business is behind the station and cares about the community. To me, it makes a difference because they care.”

“A ‘sponsor’ is someone who donates money and supports the cause. ‘Advertisers’ are just focused on the sales they’re going to get.”

“They come off as ‘sponsors’ rather than ‘advertisers,’ and that has a different air.”

"I think our show has had a tremendous impact on the community by way of allowing individuals to have open and honest dialogue. Our future plans are to bring awareness to the forefront of social injustices. Providing an informative platform that is enlightening to those who are seeking a catalyst to being involved in community. While our main focus of the show is African American issues and concerns, our goal is to be inclusive and unbiased. Urban Conversations is just the beginning of what can be accomplished if you're committed to community."

Host, Urban Conversations

UNDERWRITING

Underwriting is a powerful tool—unique to public radio—which benefits our corporate partners by providing focused and uncluttered space for their message.

Underwriting is not advertising. Instead, underwriting marks your business as a civic leader—supporting the creative work of our Lexington Community Radio volunteers as well as our dedicated listeners.

Underwriting acknowledgments are 15-30 seconds long. Extensive national research has demonstrated that public radio listeners are put off by long messages. In fact the more a message extends beyond 15 seconds, the more likely listeners are to change the channel.

Underwriting bestows a scientifically proven ‘halo effect’ on corporate partners. Public radio listeners are more likely to positively identify with underwriters and their products than with advertisers on commercial radio stations.

OPTIMUM EFFECTIVE SCHEDULING

To maximize the impact of underwriting messages, we use a formula based on listeners and listening time called Optimum Effective Scheduling (OES).

Based on year-to-date calculations, an Optimum Effective Schedule consists of 25 acknowledgments per week.

We offer underwriting sponsorships by the week to ensure our corporate partners receive optimal recognition.

Multiple weeks can be reserved at discounted rates.

To fulfill our mission of amplifying under-represented voices, Lexington Community Radio offers a 15% discount to businesses owned by women, people of color and/or LGBT individuals. Non-profit organizations receive a 15% discount as well.
